Objective

I'm a tenacious data analyst with an objective to collect, clean, and analyze data to gain actionable insights, make decisions, and drive business growth. My goals are to improve data quality, optimize data processes, and effectively communicate findings to stakeholders using Microsoft excel, SQL, and Tableau. Additionally, I have a knowledge of front-end web development using HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript. I work with an aim to make an exceptional contribution to the evolving landscape of data analytics, Web development and technology in general.
